Mark Trovato Chartered Accountants partners with Employure, Australia's leading workplace relations specialists.

Managing employees and keeping your workplace safe is a big part of business success and that is why we have partnered with Employure.

Finding the time in a busy work day to ensure you are meeting your Fair Work and health and safety requirements can be daunting, and it is often the aspect of a business that is overlooked, sometimes, until it is too late.

Whether it be hiring a new employee, interpreting Modern Awards, or implementing workplace policies, Employure works directly with business owners to assist them with meeting their obligations.

We have organised for an Employure Workplace Consultant to join us in the office to meet with clients for free, one-on-one consultations. For those of our valued clients that are unable to attend a free session at our Busselton offices, Employure will come to your place of business for the same free consultation.

This invaluable opportunity will be a private session between you and Justin, Employure Workplace Consultant, to run through your existing workplace documentation and processes to identify non-compliance or potential gaps.

Details:

Please register your interest with our office today (Wednesday 21 March 2018) via phone or email.

Employure will then be in contact to schedule a free consultation, to be held at a time and location convenient to you.
